

Learn Dutch without studying!

Welcome to The Netherlands! Maybe you have just arrived or maybe you have been here for a while. You might already have noticed that we are a very international community where you can hear different languages already during your visit to the supermarket. Surely you have not had any serious difficulties when communicating with other people.

So even though it might not be necessary for you to learn the Dutch language, you could always do it for fun!

And fun ways to learn the Dutch language is exactly what we do at Language Master in Hoofddorp! We are the only language institute in The Netherlands where students learn a new language without studying! You will not find any text books or exercise books in our class rooms. You don't need a note book to write anything down. You don't have to study any vague grammar rules with lots of exceptions. You don't need to make any dull homework.

So, how do you learn Dutch with us? We work according to the Comprehensible Input philosophy. Scientists all over the world say that in order to learn a new language, you need a lot of of input. Our teachers will make sure that their input is comprehensible. Instead of talking about grammar, we will be talking to you, about you, about your life, your family, your likes and dislikes. We make up funny and interesting stories together, so that you can learn Dutch in a relaxed way. We read stories and we play funny games (yes, also interesting for adults!). We talk about pictures we see and short videos we watch.

We are offering these Dutch lessons in collaboration with primary school Klimop in Hoofddorp. On Wednesday 4 September from 19:00-20:15 we will offer a free trial lesson so that you can experience our unique way of working. The Beginners 1 course of 10 lessons (75 minutes each) will start on Wednesday 18 September 2019, price for this course is € 150,00.
